Improve your English while volunteering in Cape Town

Use your English to make an impact: Volunteer in South Africa

Looking for meaningful ways to improve your English? Volunteering is a great way to experience a new culture while making a difference. Working with trusted partner organizations throughout South Africa, we offer a range of service opportunities—from working with elephants and large cats to tracking marine life to helping disadvantaged children. No matter which option you choose, volunteering in this diverse culture amid stunning natural beauty will be lifechanging. Anyone with an intermediate English level can sign up for our volunteer abroad programme, although we recommend a two-week English course at EC Cape Town, first.

What you can expect from your volunteer abroad programme

Improved English skills

On your volunteer programme with EC Cape Town, you'll be surrounded by English speakers in everyday situations, so you can count on improved language skills in listening, speaking, reading and writing. Since our programmes require a B1 or B2 English proficiency level, we recommend combining your volunteer experience with a short English language course at EC Cape Town before volunteering.

The right match

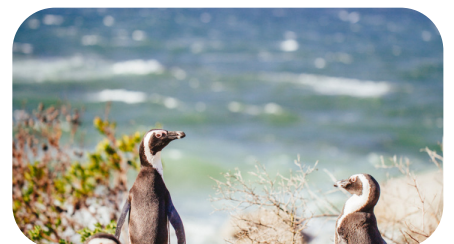

Select from a wide range of animal-based and community-based volunteer opportunities to find the perfect fit for you. Perform a range of tasks in bird sanctuaries, big game preserves or marine environments. Help at an animal rescue. Or work with disadvantaged and vulnerable children in South African townships.

Broader cultural awareness

Volunteer abroad programmes allow you to immerse yourself in a new culture and community and gain a deeper understanding of the history, culture and traditions of those you serve. In the process, you'll develop a global perspective you didn't have before, along with a greater appreciation for diversity.

Reasons to choose our volunteer abroad programme in Cape Town

- You are age 18+, have intermediate English skills and want to volunteer in South Africa while improving your English
- You want to volunteer with animals or in disadvantaged communities
- You have enrolled in an EC Cape Town English course (2 weeks+) prior to volunteering
- You can spend at least two weeks, full-time, on a volunteer project
- You have the agility and energy to engage in physical, hands-on work
- You enjoy working as part of a team

Valuable new skills

Volunteering to support animals or children helps you build important skills that are transferrable across a wide range of careers. In addition to the specific work skills, you'll gain experience with teamwork, time management and organization—all skills that will help your CV stand out to employers.

Meaningful relationships

Volunteering connects you with others in meaningful ways—as a care giver, as a community member and as a teammate. With English as your common language, you'll gain extraordinary, shared experience with others from all over the world, resulting in treasured memories and lifelong friendships.

Positive impact

In addition to improving your English, exploring the world and having unforgettable experiences, you'll be giving your time and energy to children or animals who desperately need your help. You'll become part of a global network of people committed to making a real difference.

Choose how you want to make a difference

At EC Cape Town, we offer animal-based and community-based volunteer opportunities. In each case, we work directly with trusted partner organisations based in Cape Town or elsewhere in South Africa.
